1 Corinthians 6:1-11

1. 1 Corinthians 6:9-10 describes the person who is outside of Christ. In 1 Corinthians 6:11, Paul describes that when one trusts in Christ's finished work on the cross, three things happen to that person to radically change who they now are. Explain in practical terms what each one of those things means for you:

2. On Sunday, Pastor Dave dealt with Matthew 18:15-18 and how believers are to handle disputes and grievances amongst believers without involving the civic court system.
 - What are the steps a believer is to take to resolve a difference with another believer according to Matthew 18:15-18?

 - Why do you think Jesus shared the parable about the lost sheep (Matthew 18:10-14) just before His teaching on confrontation?

 - Why do you think Jesus shared the parable of the unforgiving servant immediately after His teaching on confrontation?

 - How does Galatians 6:1-2 help the believer who needs to confront another believer?

By the grace of God, I will let love "cover" an offense against me that I have been harboring. I will have a spirit of forgiveness, thereby imitating Christ.

After much prayer and with a gentle spirit, I will approach a person that I have perceived has sinned against me and share the situation with them in the hope of complete restoration. I ask for your prayers for me.
